The Comprehensive Center for Rehabilitation

Dr. Rosenblatt is a board certified Interventional Physiatrist. He did his residency in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center and did additional training in interventional pain management with Dr. Phil Fisher at the Huntington Spine Pain and Rehabilitation Center. Dr. Rosenblatt is board certified in Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Pain Medicine, Pain Management, and Sports Medicine. He is chairman of both the departments of Pain Management and of Rehabilitation Medicine at 2 hospitals and practices at 3 more. He spends his time treating patients with neck, back and musculoskeletal pain by utilizing medication, physical therapy, and injection therapy. He has been active teaching in medical schools and hospitals and also lectures to public interest groups.

The Comprehensive Center for Rehabilitation provides the services you need in a warm and caring environment. Our team of dedicated therapists are all very talented and experienced in their respective fields. We are a community-based facility located on Manhattan's Lower East Side, and we strive to meet the needs of our clients with sensitivity, commitment, and concern.
